

The students suggest:

- Some view the exercise sets as hard. Sometimes, a hint could help. Some identities could also be given.
- An in-class summary of the material seen could be helpful from time to time.
- The examples are good, but examples similar to the exercises could be useful.

The students like:

- Animations and videos are appreciated; there could also be more visual aids, like colors.
- Most are satisfied with how the concepts are explained and with the material presented.
